Red Armies Pound on Unceasingly in Gale-Driven Snows

Seem Determined Not To Allow Nazis to Settle for Spring Offense

By The Associated Press

Russian armies, driving forward through gale-whipped snowstorms, reported today they had liberated 80 cities and more than 4,800 towns and villages in the past 10 weeks, and declared that the Germans had lost 40,000 men in the Crimean battle of Sevastopol alone.

Soviet dispatches said the Red armies were scoring heavy new gains in the Donets river industrial basin, in the Ukraine, and in the drive against Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged the Russians were also smashing in "heavy, massed attacks" against German lines before Leningrad but asserted they had been driven back.

On the North African front, British headquarters reported little change in the situation, with imperial patrols active on a line from Tmimi to El Mechili, 50 miles west of Tobruk.

At sea, the German high command declared nazi bombers attacking a strongly-protected British convoy off the Egyptian coast scored hits on a light cruiser, a destroyer and two big transports, inflicting such heavy damage that one was "presumed lost."

British Claim Sea Success

The British Admiralty said that British submarines had sunk one axis supply ship and torpedoed two others, one of which almost certainly sank, in new attacks on enemy transport lanes in the Mediterranean.

Each of the ships was in a separate convoy, the Admiralty said, and all three attacks the British submarines struck despite heavy protection for the convoys, including planes.

The Berlin radio said German 7-boats operating in the Atlantic ad sunk eight more merchant ships totalling 50,500 tons and a private. Six of the victims were sunk off the North American coast.

The Italian Gazette listed losses of Premier Mussolini's armed forces on Mediterranean basin and Russian fronts since Jan. 1 at 245 killed, 2,687 wounded and 860 missing.

An official spokesman in London said that of the 18,000 casualties to British forces in the battle of Libya disclosed last month by Prime Minister Churchill, 2,908 were known to have been men killed.

The War Today!

Hitlerian political machinations in the Mediterranean theater are raising troublesome issues for the allies as the nazi chief makes ostensible preparations for a fresh offensive to try to wrest control of this strategic area from the British—a move calculated to be co-ordinated with the Japanese drive in the Orient which, by the way, has Singapore in a grave position today.

The latest of several developments is the British charge that food and gasoline have been reaching axis troops in Libya through neighboring Tunisia. This is particularly serious in that, if true, it means a decided weakening on the part of the Vichy government under German pressure for concessions, and gives rise to fear that it presages German use of French African colonies as bases.

Any such retreat by the Vichy government would be a matter of the utmost concern, since there is involved the security not only of the Mediterranean but of the Atlantic. Obviously the United States is vitally concerned, quite

Murder of Five Is Executed Today

Michigan City, Ind., Feb. 10—(AP)—Virgilus (Dink) Carter, 33, of Aurora, feud killer of five in-laws, early today in the state prison electric chair.

His sentence was ordered to be executed between midnight and sunrise. Warden Alfred F. Dowd chose midnight, Central Standard Time—1 a. m., Central War Time—to avoid any chance of irregularity. Carter was pronounced dead at 1:13 a. m. War Time.

Carter, a Kentucky-born laborer, was convicted by jury in Lawrenceburg Oct. 21 of murdering his niece, Mary Elizabeth Breeden, 12, with a shotgun.

Sheriff William A. Winegard said he confessed slaying his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Johnstone and Nina Ague, both 60, and brothers-in-law, Leo Ague, 24, and William Ague, 30, on their farm May 16 and told of a long-standing quarrel with the Ague brothers.

His wife, Loena, 23, visited him in death row yesterday with his four-year-old daughter.

Unyielding

Chicago, Feb. 10—(AP)—The Waggoner gasoline station in suburban Oak Park and Forest Park are doing a rushing business in spite of efforts on the part of competitors to force them to comply with a voluntary 7 p. m. curfew.

When most station owners agreed Sunday on the curfew, they decided to adopt an idea used in Aurora to force non-compliers to follow by rolling into the non-complying stations after 7 p. m., asking for all sorts of free service and offering huge bills in payment of single gallons of gasoline.

The Waggoner stations however posted signs saying motorists would have to pay 50 cents to have their windows cleaned and 25 cents for each tire checked. Another sign read: "Minimum purchase $1." When a competitor gets in line with his car and offers a $20 or $100 bill in payment for one gallon of gasoline, the attendant says "It's on the house" and waves him on.

Weight of Public Opinion Against Congress' Pensions Is Being Felt

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—An avalanche of letters from back home, the like of which hasn't been seen on Capitol Hill since the days of neutrality repeal, put the pressure of voters today behind a growing movement for repeal of the new law setting up pensions for congressmen.

Following quickly on the heels of the derisive "Bundles for Congress" movement, the outpouring of letters apparently was having noticeable results with some legislators.

Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga.) of the house civil service committee told reports that upwards of a dozen bills seeking repeal of the pension act already have been referred to his committee, but indicated no immediate action was contemplated on any of them.

Although Ramspeck stuck to his original contention that the pensions for congressmen were justified, Rep. Smith (R-Ohio) assailed them as "entirely unjustified" and urged their immediate repeal.

Smith declared indignantly that unless his own repeal bill or some similar measure is sent to the house floor by Ramspeck's committee, he would circulate a petition to compel the committee to release a repealer for house consideration.

"And I haven't any doubt about getting the necessary 218 signatures to force a vote," he added.

"I propose," he said on the floor yesterday, "to give an opportunity to each house member to make a public record of his position and to express disapproval of the clandestine manner by which the Ramspeck bill was sneaked through the house."

Smith's bill would abolish pensions not only for members of congress but also for some 250,000 appointive office-holders he said were given pension privileges under the blanket provisions of the Ramspeck bill.

Japs Increase Pressure on British, Americans--- Battle of Singapore in Dying Hours?

Former Normandie, Fear-Seared, Water-Logged, Turns Over

Navy Hopes to Salvage One-Time Luxury Liner for War Service

New York, Feb. 10—(AP)—Like a great wounded monster but, somehow, majestic still, the fire-seared and water-logged former French liner Normandie succumbed to the surging tide today and toppled to ignominious rest in Hudson river mud.

Ravaged by flames, a gaping hole cut in her hull in a vain attempt to counteract pressure of the incoming tide, the $60,000,000 vessel rolled over at 1:45 a. m. (CWT) and now lies on her port side in 40 feet of water alongside her pier.

The navy, however, has not abandoned hope of still using the one-time blue ribbon liner. Queried on reports that she was beyond salvage, the public relations office of the Third Naval District stated:

"The navy supports no such contention at this time."

As fireboats continued to throw streams of water on the still-burning ship, naval officials planned to meet later in the day to determine what to do with her.

Touched off by sparks from a welder's torch, flames raged through the naval craft for three and a half hours yesterday before they were brought under control by every available piece of land and sea fire fighting equipment in Manhattan.

Causes One Fatality

Two hundred twenty of the 2,200 workmen and naval personnel aboard suffered injuries, and one welder, Frank Trentacosa, 36, died last night in a hospital of a fractured skull received when he jumped from deck to pier.

It was ever so gently and with scarcely a noise that the 80,000-ton ship—now the U. S. naval auxiliary LaFayette—dipped her fire-blackened superstructure to the water's surface in surrender.

Only the crunch of ice and a final belch of smoke and flame—quickly extinguished by fireboats—marked the settling of the sea giant while spotlights from fire equipment on shore and in the river played on her toppling bulk.

Hope that she could be salvaged even in her present position and condition was expressed by Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrew, commandant of the Third Naval District, as he ordered the big ship abandoned three hours before it rolled over. At that time a 21-deck list had developed and the "clear ship" order was taken as a precaution against a loss of life. The pier also was cleared.

Sabotage Not Suspected

"I don't believe the fire was caused by sabotage," Admiral Andrews said. "There was nothing to indicate it."

A big hole was cut in the ship's starboard side to allow water to be pumped into tanks amidships, he explained in an attempt to offset a list to port by settling the ship more firmly on the bottom, but the pressure of the tide counteracted this emergency measure.

Thus was written another chapter in the seven-year history of the erst-while blue-ribbon Normandie. She glided once with smart black and white paint; this gave way to wartime gray. Then the fire turned this to shroud-like black; now red mud swirls about half her hull and innards.

How suddenly the fire started and how rapidly it spread was described by former city Alderman Edward J. Sullivan, who happened to be aboard the ship.

"I was standing on the promenade deck watching men with acetylene torches," he said. "They all had large shields around them to keep the sparks from their

Report Cartel of Industrialists in Move to End Wars

London, Feb. 10—(AP)—An international cartel of French and German industrialists was reliably reported today to have started organizing a new campaign for a negotiated peace between Germany and the United Nations on business grounds.

These international industrialists, a qualified source said, argued that Japanese conquests in the Pacific with acquisition already of territories rich in natural resources and raw material have put Japan in a position to seize and dominate world markets if the western powers persist in fighting the war to an end.

The industrialists were reported pointing a campaign particularly toward the United States with emphasis on the dangers of adding access to raw material to Japan's cheap labor supply.

They are seeking intervention by bankers and manufacturers of other warring nations in the west to permit westerners to return to a peace-time economy before the Japanese "get an upper hand in world markets."

Recalls Earlier Feelers

This source said Adolf Hitler regarded the campaign with benign interest because he feels that the worst it can do would be to retard war production of his enemies and dampen the ardor of United States manufacturers who have been sensitive to the "yellow peril."

The new peace move recalled earlier feelers aimed at a separate armistice with Russia when the soviets were retreating last fall. The Russians flatly rejected the suggestions last October 11.

This source said, however, he was informed that the concern of the German and French industrialists over the possibility of Japanese seizure of world markets is real.

It was prompted particularly by the fact that Japan has just informed Germany that, despite the Malayan and Netherlands East Indies successes, Japan will not be in a position to spare raw materials to Germany from those captured areas for at least two years, the informant said.

Japan was said to have insisted that the Dutch scorched earth policy had been so thorough it would be six months before she could get any real benefits from the Indies, and that for a year and a half afterward the raw materials would be needed by the Japanese themselves.

Bataan Defenders Shoot Down Seven Attacking Planes

MacArthur Reported to Be Battling Against Increasing Odds

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—American forces in the Philippines shot down seven Japanese planes in the last 24 hours, the war department said today, but are battling increasingly heavy odds on the ground.

The army transport Royal T. Frank, 224 net tons, was reported sunk by a torpedo in Hawaiian waters January 28, with 29 persons reported lost. Thirty-three survivors reached a Hawaiian port.

In the Netherlands Indies, the department reported in its communique, a small formation of American fighter planes shot down one enemy plane in a minor action with a flight of Japanese bombers.

The text of the communique, No. 99 of the war, based on reports received here up to 11 a. m. C. W. T.:

"I. Philippine Theater:

"In a message to the war department, General MacArthur emphasized the grim determination of his American-Filipino troops. The identifications of five veteran Japanese divisions on Bataan peninsula, in addition to many other supporting troops, and the reported landing of reinforcements in the Lingayen gulf areas, indicate the heavy odds against them.

Fighting Savage

"Fighting in Bataan during the past twenty-four hours was intermittent but of a particularly savage nature. The enemy suffered heavy casualties.

"During the past twenty-four hours our troops shot down seven enemy planes. This brings the total hostile aircraft positively confirmed as destroyed in the Philippines since the outbreak of the war to 163. Many others were hit and probably destroyed, but Reinforcements of U. S. Navy Fighters in Wellington, N. Z.

Boston, Feb. 10—(AP)—The arrival at Wellington, New Zealand, of the vanguard of a United States naval force was reported today to the Christian Science Monitor by its correspondent, Joseph C. Harsch, who described also the landing of American reinforcements at "way stations along the route" from Pearl Harbor.

In a copyrighted story, Harsch told of his landing at Wellington from a destroyer, described as the first unit of Admiral Herbert F. Leary's American forces. He said the landfall was reached even before the public announcement of Admiral Leary's appointment to command all allied forces in the Anzac area.

The Monitor's correspondent said he traveled part of the way from Pearl Harbor with the forces that attacked the Japanese mandated Gilbert and Marshall Islands. Then he changed to another unit by breeches buoy in mid-Pacific.

Symbol of Victory

Thereafter, he said, he "spent many days among the tropic islands where ships will know to the luxury trade poured American reinforcements into way stations" along the 4000 mile route from Hawaii to New Zealand. After describing the waving of hats and flags as the destroyer came into Wellington harbor at 23 knots, Harsch added:

"Behind the color of this little act in a great drama lay a symbol of an important American victory. The battle of the supply line from America's factories to the Far Pacific battle front has been won. Japan has suffered its first serious reverse. An American admiral commands the terminus of the supply route. The way stations have been secured. Bluejackets are here. And the way is open for reinforcements and the vital weapons of war."

The correspondent said he left Pearl Harbor on an airplane carrier, accompanied by destroyers and cruisers, but that "no battle-ships encumbered swift movements."

Finds Force Intact

One night, he said, the Japanese radio announced the sinking of the force with which he was sailing, including the aircraft carrier. At sun-up, he added, he climbed to the sky control and found the entire force intact. He added:

"The Japanese literally did

British Defenders of Stronghold in East Scorch Earth

Radio Station in Beleaguered City Is Silenced Today

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Overwhelming masses of Japanese troops swarmed onto Singapore island today, forcing British Imperial defenders to execute a new withdrawal in what appeared to be the dying hours of the struggle for Britain's last great stronghold in the Far Pacific.

Informed quarters in London said it was possible the Japanese had infiltrated into Singapore city itself and attacked the radio station there.

The station suddenly blanked out this morning.

The gloomy outlook at Singapore was further emphasized by reports that British troops had begun to apply a scorched earth program, blowing up all oil tanks and firing factories in the northwest area of the island.

City Under Smoke Pall

Dispatches from the beleaguered city said that the din of battle intensified after dawn and that a great black pall of smoke hung over the scene of fighting. Japanese planes flew low over Singapore's outskirts, and residents heard the whine of machine-gun bullets.

Artillery rumbled heavily from the west, while the pre-dawn skies were red with the glow of burning oil tanks.

Tokyo dispatches broadcast by the Italian radio said Japanese assault forces had driven within five miles of the downtown heart of Singapore city.

British headquarters acknowledged at 10 p. m. last night (11 a. m.) C. W. T. (Monday) that fighting ranged only 10 miles away.

Bloody Fight Continues

A Berlin broadcast said the Japanese commander, Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, sent a message this morning to the British Commander-in-chief, Lieut. Gen. A. E. Percival, demanding the surrender of Singapore.

Bloody fighting still continued, however, with the hard-pressed Australian, British and Indian imperials exacting a terrific toll on the invaders.

Domei, official Japanese news agency, said in front-line dispatches that Japanese engineers had repaired the 3,000-foot Johore Strait causeway, which the British had breached and that Japanese troops and supplies were pouring over the span.

Effect on United Nations

There was no disguising the magnitude of the disaster Singapore's fall would inflict on the United Nations. It would:

1. Gravely endanger allied bases between the Suez Canal, Egypt and Pearl Harbor, Honolulu.

2. Free Japan's powerful Malayan armies for attacks on Java, Burma and even Australia.

3. Deal a blow to United Nations manpower in the southwest Pacific unless the more than 60,000 British troops now locked in battle on Singapore island could be evacuated—an almost impossible feat.

4. Give Japan a free passage to the Indian ocean and the Bay of Bengal.

Japs Stricken in N. E. I.

Even as Singapore's fateful hour approached, the Japanese invasion hordes were already striking new blows in the Dutch Indies and toward Australia.

A bulletin from N. E. I. headquarters said Japanese troops, launching their sixth attack on a key point in the Indies, had landed in the vicinity of Macassar, chief port of the southwest coast of Celebes island, 500 miles northeast of the big Dutch naval base at Soerabaja, Java.

The thrust was seen as another move toward the expected direct assault on Java itself, wealthiest of the Indies and headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's United Nations command.

Simultaneously, communications were interrupted between Java and the port of Banjarmasin, on the south coast of Dutch Borneo, 350 miles north of Soerabaja. This usually means that an attack is in progress.

Other Japanese troops effected a new landing at Gasmata, on the south coast of Australian-mandated New Britain island in the Bismarck archipelago. New Britain lies about 600 miles north of Australia.

Winnebago Men Form Club; Purchase Bus

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—Twenty factory workers who commute the eight miles between Rockford and their homes in Winnebago have formed a club and bought a bus to save tires of 12 or more private automobiles.

The men, employed at the J. I. Case Company plant, organized and applied for a state charter. They pooled their resources and purchased a bus formerly used by the Winnebago Consolidated school district for transporting pupils between school and homes.

Henry Swartz and Forrest Schmittel have applied for chauffeur's licenses to operate the bus, now being reconitioned.

The government, he declared, has "made most careful inquiries and the articles and commodities I indicated are the only ones so far as we find any evidence for."

He said he expected to "hear something more today" about Vichy's response to the American inquiry.

Says French Give Supplies to Axis

London, Feb. 10—(AP)—An official spokesman said today deliveries of food and gasoline had been reaching axis troops from Tunisia, French North Africa, but he was "not yet in a position to say whether these were consigned from French North Africa or from metropolitan France."

"The government," he said, "take a most serious view of this assistance to the enemy by the Vichy authorities in North Africa and are in urgent consultation with the government of the United States, who have already made inquiries at Vichy on this matter."

(This official assertion that Vichy was aiding the axis in North Africa, at least by granting transit rights from Tunisia to Libya, echoed previous charges in the British press which Vichy has denied.)

He said deliveries included automobiles, trucks, wheat, wine, olive oil, gasoline and aviation fuel.

The government, he declared, has "made most careful inquiries and the articles and commodities I indicated are the only ones so far as we find any evidence for."

He said he expected to "hear something more today" about Vichy's response to the American inquiry.

Motoring Hazardous in Northern Part of Illinois Due to Snow

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—Packed snow on all Illinois highways north of East St. Louis and Salem made driving hazardous today but the state highway division reported that all roads were open to traffic.

Snow ranging in depth from two to seven inches fell over the northern two thirds of the state but wet snow and lack of high winds kept highways free from drifts. A highway division bulletin said an inch of packed snow made the highways "very slippery," however.

Bloomington Autoists Donate License Plates

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—Motorists tossed 2,427 sets of old license plates weighing 1,820 pounds into a bin set up on the court house lawn yesterday.

The money received from the sale of the scrap metal collected in a two-day drive, sponsored by the Daily Pantagraph, Bloomington newspaper, was turned over to the Red Cross.

Scrap dealers estimated the metal, when put on the market, would release enough virgin steel to make approximately 300 Garages and rifles.

OCD Warned Against Frills, Fancies by Angry House of Representatives

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—Dancing Mayris Chaney and Hollywood's Melvin Douglas have it straight from the house of representatives that they aren't wanted in the civilian defense set up unless they serve as volunteers without pay.

And the Office of Civilian Defense has been cautioned that any frills and fancies will be subject to congressional investigation.

That is how the house wound up the first act of the wartime controversy over the place of the arts in air raid precautions. It approved and sent to the senate yesterday a $100,000,000 appropriation for gas masks, fire-fighting and other equipment.

But the appropriation carried a strict prohibition against employment of movie actors and dancers, voted after two days of acrimonious debate. In the debate there

Of Interest to Farmers

Government Active in Purchases of Farms in Lee Co.

Twenty-third Deal is Effected Here, Amboy Property Invoked

Last Wednesday at the offices of the H. A. Roe Company of this city, the Farm Security Administration through the supervision of John C. Roe and their district supervisor, E. Melville Hayes, closed their twenty-third farm purchase. This particular tract was a 115 acre farm in Amboy township known as the Trulson place. The purchase price was $8500.00. In addition to this $8500 to cover repairs necessary to buildings and $200 to purchase limestone to improve the productivity of the land was loaned to the new owner, making a total of $8700 loaned. With the closing of this farm purchase the grand total of money spent in Lee county since June, 1938, in purchasing farms for worthy and progressive owners aggregates $262,570.00 on 23 tracts.

In this period the selective committee and Mr. Hayes have examined applications for scores of farmers and appraised many farms. Under the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Purchase Act, money is made available to selected farmers at a low rate of interest to enable them to purchase a farm. Not only is money made available for the actual purchase of the farm but for necessary repairs and soil fertility improvement as well. In this way the tenant purchaser can move onto a farm where he will be able to start out with his land and buildings in average or better shape and he can then devote his farm income to the liquidation of his indebtedness and the further improvement of his soil. The FSA further makes available all the latest and most advanced knowledge of soil improvement and crop rotation. The purchaser has for the asking some of the best experimental data on hand from both the Land Grant Colleges and the Department of Agriculture. With this help his chance of raising his net income from the soil he increases in proportion to the amount of factual knowledge thus employed in actual practice on his own farm.

Now that we are at war, the federal government, in fact, a good share of the world, are looking towards the farmer to help win this struggle. For those in farming areas the raising of crops is a real patriotic job. With the help of the FSA, and kindred organizations, the farmer is being called on to produce more staple foodstuffs than ever before. Corn allotments are being increased. More soy beans will be raised because of their many uses in industry and defense material. In general the farmer will have his share to do in helping defeat the enemies of democracy. Certainly those farming under the FSA will be more than glad to do their share.

Half the automobiles in use today on U. S. highways have a cash value of less than $100.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

The politicians have been quarreling about price ceilings and percentages of parity.

The farmers I know are asking only for a square deal. They know they're getting good prices for what they've got to sell. And they're not holding out for a political cent or two a pound or dozen—not while their own sons or their neighbors' boys out on the fighting fronts want bacon and eggs for breakfast!

Democrats or Republicans, we're all Americans. And we represent it when men in any group see in this war only an opportunity to fill their own pocketbooks. I don't believe farmers expect any special consideration and, at this point, I don't think they appreciate others making such demands for them.

There has been a great deal of confusion in the production and purchasing of both food and war materials. I suspect much of the confusion has been political—the result of certain groups putting their own selfish interests above the country's good.

But it looks now as if we're going to get somewhere.

Donald Nelson is in the saddle. He's no politician and he's obligated to no one but the people of the United States as a whole. He's a man Middle Westerners understand. It's action, not talk that counts with him. He asks for cooperation and he gets it.

"We're Moving"

They tell me European military men stood open-mouthed when they heard an American officer say to his men, who had just landed in Ireland, "We're moving, boys," and saw them fall into line and swing off down the road.

In effect, Donald Nelson has said the same thing: "We're moving, boys."

Americans respond to "orders" like that when they have confidence in the man who's giving them.

There will be differences of opinion, but they can be settled as we go along. We can't stop working to argue—not today.

And if we're going to have enough pullets next fall to shell out the last of the 4 billion dozen eggs Uncle Sam says we need this year, we've got to get the chicks started—now. You can't grow a pullet over night. We don't have time to wait while the politicians quibble about percentages of parity. What good does an extra 5 or 10 per cent of parity do a hungry soldier? He's got to have bacon and eggs—and we're going to see that he gets them.

We're feeding hens, starting chicks, getting into full wartime production. We're in step with the rest of the country. We'll criticize—it's an old American custom and a good one. But we'll keep on carrying feed. There won't be any "slowdown" on the farm.

Lee County Farm Bureau News Notes

Basing his judgment on a Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimate of a carry-over of 600 million bushels of corn next October 1, Dale D. Rosenkrans, Lee county AAA chairman, is advising farmers to plant within corn allotments this spring.

He points out the report shows that supplies of feed grains, hay and high protein feeds are the largest in more than 20 years. Stocks of corn on January 1 totaled 2 billion 177 million bushels, 145 million bushels more than on the same date a year ago.

"Corn allotments under our AAA program have been boosted 10 per cent as an additional guarantee of adequate feedstuffs at a reasonable price for the next two years," Mr. Rosenkrans said, "but in some areas and on some farms the extra 10 per cent won't be needed. In such cases farmers could do their country more good by raising soybeans."

The BAE estimate took into consideration the increased demand of livestock raisers for corn that has resulted from the wartime food production program. During the last half of 1941 combined corn and oats disappearance was 7 per cent greater than during the same period of 1940. The total supply of feed concentrates is 19 per cent above the 1928-32 average, and the oats supply is 7 million bushels larger than last year. The hay supply totals 107 million tons, the largest in the 21 years that records have been kept.

"I think the AAA ever-normal granary program should be credited with building these large stockpiles of corn and other feeds," Mr. Rosenkrans said. "Without AAA corn loans, the large surpluses from the bumper crops of the last few years would have come on the market at ruinously low prices. Consequently, a great deal of grain would have been wasted. As it was, farmers were encouraged through the corn loan program to store the corn until it was needed. Now, when there's a greater demand for corn, we're able to supply the demand at a reasonable price."

Farmers throughout the United States are making every contribution possible to the war efforts. They can help as well as protect themselves from possible shortage by conserving bale ties.

Mr. Rosenkrans, chairman of the Lee County U. S. D. A. War Board points out that approximately 100,000 tons of 14 and 15 gauge wire will be needed for baling hay, straw and other forage crops in 1942. This is equivalent in weight to three battleships or 3000 medium size tanks. War needs for iron may severely restrict the production of wire.

Farmers should begin to conserve baling wire now as not to be caught short when badly needed later on. Mr. Rosenkrans pointed out that much of the hay and straw which was baled last summer is now being used and bales tied being removed. These ties should be retained for a second use. The following suggestions for conserving ties are given:

"When bale ties are removed from a bale, either carefully remove the tie without cutting and straighten the bent end for reuse, or cut the bale ties as close to the loop as possible, leaving most of the wire for reuse again. When baling, splice the pieces of short wire to make a piece long enough for baling. Shorter ties may be used by making a shorter and lighter weight bale. Wiping the ties removed from bales with oil will prevent rusting. Ties should be stored in a dry place."

A concerted effort is being made by not only all farmers of the nation, but by all others to keep our steel plants going in order that they may furnish steel for battleships, planes, tanks and all other weapons and ammunition for our soldiers, sailors and marines.

Mr. Rosenkrans, chairman of the Lee County U. S. D. A. war board is requesting Lee county farmers to act now in picking up their scrap around the farm and selling it to his junk dealer.

Remember Pearl Harbor as well as General MacArthur and our boys making such a gallant stand in the Philippines.

Farmers will furnish their scrap to slap the Japs.

Farm Adjustment Is More Important Now Than Ever Before

Urbana, Ill.—"Each farm should now produce as much as possible of the crops for which it is adapted, but should also grow enough legumes and grasses to maintain a high level of yields," P. E. Johnston, professor of agricultural economics, told farmers attending today's sessions of Farm and Home Week at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

"We need to adjust as never before our cropping plans to variations in soil type, slope and susceptibility to erosion. It is important that the increased acreages of depleting crops be grown in areas where yields are high and where they can be produced with a minimum of erosion," he explained.

"In farming, we are not interested in producing the maximum in 1942 but in hitting a level which can be maintained for a five-to-ten-year period if necessary."

"Provided efficient land use and feed production are maintained, the limiting factors of livestock production will be labor and equipment, but each farmer will be responsible for obtaining the maximum livestock output for each bushel of corn, 100 pounds of supplement and each ton of hay."

"The high cost and scarcity of building materials will preclude any rapid expansion in housing facilities for livestock or any material expansion in livestock equipment. Efficiency in the use of available buildings and equipment is therefore important."

"Of even more importance," Johnston said, "will be the necessity to obtain the maximum production of each farm worker, as the supply is being reduced by the transfer of farm workers to industry and the army. The shortage of labor emphasizes again the urgency of increasing the efficiency of livestock production, as livestock products are so essential for domestic consumption and for export under lease-lend arrangements," he said.

Amboy Farmer Given Award by Capper Co.

A cash reward of $25 was paid to service member Levi Noble, Amboy, this week by Capper's National Protective Service, which is sponsored in Illinois by Capper's Farmer.

The reward was earned when Mr. Noble discovered his turkeys had been stolen and made a prompt report to officers who brought about the arrest and conviction of the thieves.

This reward check was delivered by I. A. Quigley, district manager for Capper's Farmer, and makes a total of $130,978.75 in cash rewards paid to members, other private citizens and law-enforcement officers for the capture and sentence to prison of 5,976 criminals who have made the mistake of looting posted property. Membership in the Protective Service is restricted to subscribers of the Capper farm papers in about twenty mid-western states who live on and operate their farms.

The results of this campaign against farm thieves have been very gratifying to publisher Arthur Capper, who believes that the law abiding citizens should be encouraged to cooperate with the

Gardens Should Be Kept Growing Into Late Summer Season

Urbana, Ill. — Any possible shortage of food which may threaten the U. S. during the winter of 1942-43 may be reduced or entirely avoided if all those in a position to do so will take care of all or part of their own supplies by canning, drying, freezing, or storing vegetables, B. L. Weaver, associate in vegetable crops, today told women visitors at the annual Farm and Home Week of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

He added that "growing vegetables for processing or storage is no more difficult than production of the same crops for immediate use. Sufficient quantities should be planned for all purposes."

To extend the period of available supply of fresh vegetables and to produce high quality material for storage, late summer or fall plantings are advisable. These plantings, said Weaver, are usually made on areas where early crops have matured. Chinese cabbage, endive, beets and carrots should be planted around June 28 to July 8 in northern Illinois, July 10 to 20 in the central area and July 24 to August 3 in southern Illinois. Turnips, kohlrabi, winter radish and head lettuce should be planted July 7 to 26 in northern Illinois, August 1 to 10 in the central area and August 15 to 24 in southern Illinois.

Spinach, mustard, spring radish and leaf lettuce may be planted around August 11 to 20 in the northern part of the state, August 25 to September 5 in central Illinois and September 8 to 17 in southern Illinois.

Successive plantings of sweet law more efficiently.

All in all, the payment of rewards, the posting of farms, the marking of property, the close watch for clues, the broadcasting of information, the use of burglar alarms and the eternal vigilance of farmers mean more security for thieves and more security for property owners.

corn and snap beans may be made at ten-day to two-week intervals to provide an almost constant supply of both for table use and processing until frost.

Marcus Albrecht and Bride Motor to New York City

The altar of St. John's Lutheran church in Ashton was decorated with coral-toned Picardy gladioli last evening for an 8 o'clock wedding ceremony, in which Miss Evelyn A. Eich, youngest of the six daughters of the Charles Eichs of near Franklin Grove, became the bride of Marcus W. Albrecht, younger son of Mrs. Marcus Albrecht, Sr. of near Ashton. The Rev. F. W. Henke, pastor of the church, performed the single ring service in the presence of 60 guests from Ashton, Compton, Franklin Grove, Rochelle, and Rockford.

Miss Alma Krans of Ashton was at the organ for the wedding march. She also accompanied Mrs. F. W. Henke and Mrs. William Ventler, who sang two hymns, "To Thee, Our Father's God, We Bow," and "At Canaan, Lord, Thou Didst Appear."

Miss Lois Degner of Ashton was her aunt's only attendant. Leroy Eich, the bride's brother, was best man.

Last evening's bride wore a dusty rose dress, with a halo of sweetpeas and carried Calla lilies. Her pearl necklace was her bridegroom's gift.

Miss Degner was wearing green, and carried a bouquet of jonquils. A strand of pearls was her gift from the bride. Corsage bouquets worn by mothers of the bridal pair contained sweetpeas.

A reception was held at the church, following the ceremony. The three-tiered wedding cake was iced in pink and blue.

Later, Mr. Albrecht and his bride left by motor for New York City, where they will be guests of the bridegroom's uncle. After their return, they will be at home on the farm of the bridegroom's mother, east of Ashton.

Mrs. Albrecht was graduated from Franklin Grove high school, and has been employed at the Caron Spinning mills in Rochelle. The bridegroom formerly attended Ashton high school.

A Thought for Today

teacheth like him?—Job 36:22.To dazzle let the vain design, to raise the thought and touch the heart, be thine!

How to Shorten the War

The quicker we get serious about this thing, the sooner it's over.Every saving, every sacrifice, every extra bit of production accomplished now will save three sacrifices, make unnecessary three savings, render un-needed three measures of production next year.
Every step that can be taken in conservation now puts off the day of rationing. Every speedup in preparation that can be made today will save American blood and American lives tomorrow. Every drop of sweat we shed today may save a drop of blood or a tear tomorrow.We Americans have not yet become serious about this war. We know that a desperate rubber shortage looks us in the face, a situation in which every scrap of rubber may be required for military purposes. And what do we do? Why, most of us go on driving our cars about as usual.We read every day of tankers sunk in the Atlantic and in the Pacific, a certain forerunner of gasoline shortages if it continues. And what do we do? We go on burning up gasoline in aimless "driving about."We know that difficulties in sugar distribution, if not an actual shortage, are a possibility. And what do we do? We stir six spoonfuls of sugar into a cup of coffee and allow three of them to be carried out in the bottom of the cup.We know that the best possible protection against future inflation as well as against present rising prices and unhealthy borrowings from banks is to buy Defense bonds and stamps. And what do we do? We buy the bonds and stamps, all right (over a billion dollars' worth in January) but it is not enough.Knitting is a help to the armed forces, but what do we do. In too many cases we knit aimlessly, using up valuable wool without first ascertaining that the product is exactly what is needed by the Army and Navy at the time. We pop into new uniforms in many branches of civilian service in which uniforms are of no help, using cloth that may be badly needed.The will to help is unlimited. We have not yet learned to correlate our efforts so as to bring them to bear at the point most needed. This will come, but it will come only by each person asking himself,
"Am I doing all I can, NOW? Have I assurancefrom responsible authority that what I am doing is valuable? Have I fully realized that every effective blow struck now may count for two or three blows later?"It is not at all hysterical to say that the entire future of our country depends on how effectively we function, not in 1943, but NOW. Almost a tenth of 1942 is already past. In the South Pacific, in Africa, on Europe's northeast coast, on the Russian front, time will not wait for us.

Three Good Rules

Think first, then write, advises the director of communications and control in Hawaii, letters from which place are necessarily censored.Here are three questions which this office suggests should be asked by every person who takes pen in hand, and while they are aimed at people living in Hawaii, it wouldn't do any harm for all the rest of us to give them a thought:1. Do I know what I am writing? Is it a fact or is it something picked up on the street?2. Does the person to whom I am writing have any business knowing this?3. Would the Japanese emperor, Hitler, or Mussolini give their right arm to have this information?Think it over before you write, even before you talk. Even if it's true, it may be better left unsaid. If it isn't, you may be relaying a vicious rumor actually planted by enemy agents.

Death by Banishment

Because indiscriminate shootings of civilians caused "profound uneasiness" among Frenchmen, the German army of occupation has devised a new technique. It exiles Frenchmen by hundreds to eastern Europe. There, of course, most of them will die, but their deaths will be inconspicuous and less likely to invite reprisals from other Frenchmen than deaths against a wall.This is a truly satanic technique. Of course no one pays any attention to the German allegation that all those who commit acts against the Germans are "Jews and Communists." If that were true, so much the worse for gentiles and democrats. But it is not true. Jews and Communists are not the only patriots of France.

Is It a Very Good House?

Having heard considerable criticism of his father's government of Britain while on leave from the Middle East Army, Major Randolph Churchill was moved to ask this question of his fellow-members of the House of Commons."Although this might not be a very good Government, ought we not ask ourselves, is it a very good House of Commons?"There's a thought in that. While our own House of Representatives very properly exercises its right and duty to investigate the conduct of the House, and of the Senate, too, but especially of their individual members.For there is an investigatory body which is also watching the conduct of members of Congress, weighing some of the ill-considered statements that have been pouring out on all occasions or on no occasion. That is the entire electorate, which is going to weigh those individual records in the House and in a third of the Senate this year. The public is going to insist not merely that we have effective administrative conduct of the war, but wise legislative conduct as well.Rites for Edwin W. Smith at His Home TomorrowIn the passing of Edwin Weeks
Smith at his home, 521 Peoria avenue at 11:45 o'clock Monday morning, Dixon and Lee county experienced the loss of one of the most active and valued citizens.
He had been outstandingly prominent in the development in both the city and the county, as well as being prominent in fraternal organizations. At his passing he was the oldest Mason in Illinois, and during his active years was promi-nently affiliated with many of the Masonic bodies.Edwin Weeks Smith who passed away at his home Monday morning at 1:45 was born in Twins-burg, Ohio, July 26, 1846, the son of Orris B., and Mary Ann Smith.
In his young manhood, he attended Willoughby college at Willoughby, Ohio, and upon his graduation, went to Rantoul, Ill., where he became associated with his uncle in the real estate business.
He came to Dixon in 1874 and engaged with his brother, the late W. E. Smith in the retail dry goods business. On Feb. 22, 1877
he was united in marriage to Miss Emma Kelsey, who was born in this city. To this union, three children were born: Pauline, who died in infancy, and two surviving daughters, Mrs. Edwina Leake, wife of Charles R. Leake, and Mrs. Ruth Philpott, both of Dixon.
His wife preceded him in death
32 years ago.

Had Active Life

Mr. Smith received his Masonic degrees in Rantoul in 1867 and served as Master of Friendship lodge, No. 7, A. F. & A. M., of this city in 1885. He received his Knight Templar degree in Dixon Commandery, No. 21 in 1879,
passing through the several stations to become Eminent Commander in 1886-1887. He later served as recorder from 1891 until 1910.He was a charter member of Dixon lodge, No. 779, B. P. O. Elks and was honored by being elected Exalted Ruler in 1906 and was the representative of the local lodge at Philadelphia, Pa., in 1907.He served the city of Dixon faithfully from 1890 until 1904 as city clerk and treasurer. He also served Dixon township as supervisor from 1891 to 1902 and was chairman of the building committee in the construction of the present court house.In addition to his immediate family, he is survived by one brother, Orris H. Smith of Cleveland, Ohio, and two nephews, Dr.
Merton Blakeslee of Los Lunos, N. M., and Raymond Blakeslee of West Allis, Wis., together with more distant relatives and a host of friends.Funeral services will be held at his late residence Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with officers and members of Dixon Commandery, No. 21, Knights Templar in charge, the Rev. Fr. B. Norman Burke of St. Luke's Episcopal church officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood, where officers of will conduct the committal service.The casket bearers will be: John Batchelder, Warren Badger, Wer-

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited).Washington, Feb. 9—Deeproot-ed uneasiness lay behind State Undersecretary Sumner Welles' generalized inquiry about the current state of Vichy's loyalties.Unofficial accounts mentioned reports that the French fleet may have been affording some protection to the axis supply line to Libya, but worse rumors have been heard here. The nazis are again pressing the French for submarine or air bases on the west coast of Africa to break up our supply line to the Near East and Far East. Also there seems to be some question whether the French fleet is not letting more ships slip into axis hands. In fact, the suggestion has been heard that Vichy has completely collapsed at last into the always extending clutches of Berlin.Information about these matters may not be wholly trustworthy but the state department has considered the situation sufficiently serious to change its plans and try to keep Admiral Leahy in France as ambassador.Vichy loyalties fluctuate ordinarily with the battle line in Libya. When the British were driving on to Tripoli a few weeks back, the French situation was satisfactory, but now that the British are in retreat again, is developing weak-knees.The effect on Turkey also is a cause for apprehension in view of intimations that Hitler's spring preparations are being directed toward the Iran and Iraq oil fields again. The question of whether Hitler will try that corner of the Near East depends on whether Turkey will fight.If Vichy abandons both her honor and her word, our naval troubles in the Atlantic would be doubled—a jolt which would certainly shake the Atlantic seaboard loose from public war
apathy by increasing possibilities for bombing our cities.Those who listened to the house debate on the Office of Civilian Defense hoped enough movie stars and dancers might be employed to tell the people what to do in case of an air raid. Since the first unsuccessful test blackout in Washington the subject has been only vaguely mentioned, and the test has not been repeated. Do you know what you are to do in case of an air raid?Visionaries who are storing up notions for post-war Utopia (including "Union Now") had better include in their files a sharp arrangement from the London Statist of January 5, which has just reached here. This old British economic publication is warning Churchill, Eisenhower, America and the world that changing Britain's political and economic structure after the war, is beyond their authority.Approving Churchill's successful mission to Washington and Eden's to Moscow, the magazine
remarks:"Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden are vulnerable to one danger—that in their necessary desire to ward nations closer for war, they may be committed to post war policies which would be repugnant to their people."If there is any suggestion that either present war-need or some vague kind of gratitude to those allies who joined us late in the battle demands that Britain's political or economic structure shall be changed and remodeled, either on that of America or that of Russia—if, in short, accord threatens to become federalism of some kind, then we may be forgiven for reminding all concerned that such possibilities lie outside the present mandate of any statesman.The article seems to be hitting at the "Union Now" idea of post war amalgamation of the U. S. and Britain as well as some of the fancy suggestions about world wage scales and living conditions—and not without a side glance at socialism, although it does not mention any matter specifically.It marks the first note of such a character that has yet been heard here, although it is probably not the last.A new division with the ominous title of "War Fraud Unit" is being established in the justice department for the comparatively innocent purpose of helping small manufacturers get defense contracts. The name was selected to terrify the small-time chiselers
who have been selling themselves
as defense contract brokers.Large manufacturers can afford to hire full-time lawyers to work up defense business, but the small factories found themselves
unable to do much business here without contract brokers. In some cases, these brokers turned out to be gentle extortionists.
Some contracts have been voided
as a result.Report Uncle Sam Unwilling to Pay for Hog ProductsChicago, Feb. 10—(AP)—Hog raisers, preparing for the birth of record numbers of piglets this spring, today watched price trends for a hint of the possible fate of their first venture in all-out wartime production since 1918.Hog prices are virtually the highest since 1937, at an average of about $12.30 a hundredweight
compared with $7.82 a year ago and just above $5 two years ago.At these prices, the hog business would appear to be in pretty good shape, livestock men said,
but there is more to it than that.
For one thing, prices are around 110 per cent of parity. This is the minimum level at which ceilings could be placed on prices under the law, with approval of the secretary of agriculture.Also trade reports indicated government agents, who have been buying pork and lard for lend-lease shipment abroad, were unwilling to pay higher prices. They have followed the market upward for 11 months, contributing much of the buying power that has stimulated the advance.

Report Causes Break

Some livestock men said Friday's sharp price break in hogs
was the result of this report.
Packers who have been handling lend-lease orders received word, according to this report, that the government agency was accepting offers on lard and pork last week
at prices not above levels prevailing the last week of January.Furthermore, the government was understood to have adopted these levels as its ceiling at least temporarily, with the belief that continued large quantities of pork
and lard should be made available to it at prices somewhat lower.Traders said if packers were unable to obtain higher prices for pork and lard from the government or from meat consumers in general they would be unable to pay higher prices for hogs, since,
they said, there is a constant close adjustment between the two.

Full Instructions Issued for Men Who Register on Monday

All Unregistered Men Between Ages of 20
and 40 Affected

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Each person who registers for possible military service on Feb. 16 will just have to answer nine questions on a green card and sign his name, Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service said.

Each registrant will then receive a registration certificate signed by the registrar, which must be in his personal possession at all times. The nine questions:

1. Name.
2. Residence.
3. Mailing address (if other than residence).
4. Telephone number.
5. Age in years and date of birth.
6. Place of birth.
7. Name and address of person who will always know your address.
8. Employer's name and address.
9. Place of employment.

Registration Data
WHO MUST REGISTER?—All male residents of the United States (both citizens and aliens), previously unregistered for Selective Service, who have attained their 20th birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their 45th birthday on or before February 16, 1942.

WHO ARE NOT REQUIRED TO REGISTER?—Commissioned officers, warrant officers, pay clerks and enlisted men of the Regular Army, Navy, etc., etc. (as shown in Section 5 of the President's Proclamation).

WHERE MUST I REGISTER?—At one of the registration stations set up by your own local board—that is, the board of your home address. Most of these registration stations will be established in school buildings. Watch the papers a few days before Registration Day and you will find a complete list of all the stations. Look for the stations listed under the ward in which you live and then go to the station that is closest to your home.

WHAT TIME OF THE DAY WOULD BE BEST FOR REGISTERING?—The earlier the better. Do not put off registering until the last minute. It would be best to leave your house early and register before you go to work.

WILL I BE "DOCKED" BY MY EMPLOYER IF I TAKE TIME OFF FROM WORK IN ORDER TO REGISTER?—That is a question that can be answered by your employer only. The President has urged all employers and government agencies to give employees time off to register but war effort must not be impeded.

MUST I REGISTER ON FEBRUARY 16 IF I AM AWAY FROM HOME?—Yes, you must register on that date regardless of where you are. Simply go to a convenient registration station and give your home address in whatever city you reside. Your registration card will be forwarded to the local board in your home city. (NOTE: You alone have the privilege of deciding which board shall have jurisdiction—your home town board or the board where you register.)

WHAT SHALL I DO ABOUT REGISTERING IF I AM ON A TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILROAD OR A TRANSCONTINENTAL BUS ON FEBRUARY 16?—You simply continue your journey and as soon as possible after you leave the train or bus, go to the nearest local board (regardless of where you may be at the time) and register at that board office. Your registration card will be forwarded to your own home board.

WHAT IF I AM OUT OF THE COUNTRY ON FEBRUARY 16? WHEN DO I REGISTER?—Just as soon as possible after you return to United States Territory.

SUPPOSE I AM SICK IN A HOSPITAL OR AT HOME ON FEBRUARY 16, HOW WILL I BE REGISTERED?—By a special registrar who will visit the hospital. If you are sick at home and cannot go to the registration station on February 16, have a relative or friend go to your own local board office to make arrangements to register you at your home.

DO I GET SPECIAL NOTICE TO REGISTER ON FEBRUARY 16?—No, the President has issued a proclamation calling for registration of those men of certain ages, and that proclamation is deemed sufficient public notice to all concerned.

IF I MOVE TO ANOTHER CITY AFTER FEBRUARY 16, MUST I REGISTER AGAIN IN ACCORDANCE WITH MY NEW ADDRESS?—No, decidedly no! You must register only ONCE. Whenever you change your address, you must immediately notify the local board which has your registration card. You could move a dozen times, but you will still be under the jurisdiction of your original board which has your card.

WHEN WILL MEN OF 45 YEARS AND UP TO 64 BE REGISTERED?—No one but the President can answer that question. When he is ready for such men to register, he will issue a proclamation accordingly. This

Stephen A. Day's Petitions Filed

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Stephen A. Day of Evanston, Republican congressman-at-large, filed petitions Monday as a candidate for renomination for a second term in the primary April 14.

Day was the first candidate of either party to file for the single congress-at-large seat at stake in this year's election. He personally presented petitions bearing about 7,000 names at the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes.

A member of the congressional non-interventionist bloc before Pearl Harbor, Day said in a prepared statement:

"We must win this war for the preservation of the United States of America. To that end I have pledged my whole devotion and my every energy just as I pledged myself to oppose our entry into the war before I was elected to congress. I kept that pledge. I have voted in congress for every measure calling for a vigorous prosecution of the war and for complete national defense."

Day said national unity in prosecution of the war was essential, but that political unity would destroy the two-party system, and added "we need a patriotic and constructive party of exposition in the senate and the house."

Saturday's filing in the secretary of state's office included the following from the 35th, senatorial district:

(Democratic)
* Henry J. White, Somonauk.
Edward R. Jones, 823 East Fellows street, Dixon.

(Republican)
* George S. Brydia, 105 West 3rd. street, Prophetstown.
Lyle M. Prescott, Shore Acres, Dixon.

Uncle Sam Tax Trouble

Washington, Feb. 10.—Having tax troubles?

Here's consolation—the government had them, too, during the fiscal year of 1941.

And those particular woes provided cheery news to thousands who dug too deep in paying past levies, and as a result of over-assessments were refunded a total of $54,006,883.

If General MacArthur is not too preoccupied with other matters, his name appeared for a modest sized refund.

In a bulky document turned over today for law-required inspection by congress, the Internal Revenue Bureau listed the names of those who paid more than their share and the amounts of their refunds.

Deep in the list was the name of Douglas MacArthur, now holding Bataan peninsula against the Japanese invaders of the Philippines. The bureau reported it had sent the general its check for $629.66, as executor for the estate of Mary P. MacArthur, his mother.

In all Classes
The refunds went out to taxpayers in widely-varied walks of life—stars of the stage and screen, the socially prominent, statesmen, singers, men prominent in high finance, diplomats, industrialists, sports promoters, publishers, authors and bankers.

The largest individual refund—two checks totalling $253,957—went to George P. Jones, Chicago industrialist.

The largest refund for income and miscellaneous taxes was turned over to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York City, a total of $1,814,364.00.

California's movie colony was represented, too. Inca Claire was listed for a refund of $98,205. Fred Astaire drew $721 and Mary Boland, $471.

Sally Rand gave her last stitch to the motley collection of cast-offs flowing into headquarters for the Bundles-for-Congress campaign.

Although official figures for the 12-month period had not been released at this writing, the monthly average passenger volume indicated the airlines carried roughly one million more passengers in 1941 than in 1940.

apart from the obligations of our alliance.

This development comes to be axiomatic. It is inspired by anti-British rioting in Spanish Morocco. There isn't much reason to doubt the origin of this trouble, for the Hitler-Mussolini brotherhood has worked untiringly to win the support of the Arab population in the Mediterranean zone. This would be a great asset in the coming trial of strength for control of the sea which has made England policeman of Europe.

Coincident with this, and of even greater importance, young King Farouk of Egypt has given a fresh demonstration of what the London press interprets as an anti-British attitude. If Farouk is indeed trying to kick over the traces in the face of Egypt's cast-iron alliance with Britain, he will raise a pressing problem, for there is one place in the whole Mediterranean area that the British must control if it is Egypt.

British, giving domination of the Suez Canal and the whole eastern Mediterranean. Should the kaiser choose to challenge England there could be no doubt that London would simply crack down on him and that another king will be looking for a job.

If the British did have to establish a protectorate over Egypt it would be history repeating itself. The British took over control of the country early in the first World War when Egypt ceased to be a tributary state of the Turkish empire. This protectorate lasted until 1922 when Egypt became nominally an independent kingdom.

much as this is now, that is, there was a very considerable opposition to the protectorate. The Egyptian government wanted complete elimination of British influence, just as now the revolutionary WAFD party and many other nationalists, said to include the young king, wish to be rid of this control.

The first ruler of the protectorate was the late Sultan Hussein Kamil, and from him I got a clear picture of the situation soon after he came to the throne. Had was a very unhappy man who had

I was amazed at his outspoken hostility to the British. He got so hot, in fact, that I had to edit his interview vigorously to save him from himself. Later he thanked me for doing this, recognizing after he had cooled off that he had been indiscreet. French was the language normally employed with foreigners, and the Sultan insisted on using French in talking with me although he knew English perfectly well. Incidentally, he stood on the rule that Britons and other foreigners who were granted audiences kiss his hand—a ceremony which your correspondent sidestepped.

Apparently King Farouk possesses some of this hostility. However, he must know that the British won't let an Egyptian crown stand between them and continued control of the Mediterranean.

Illinois Loses To Indiana Five 41-36

First Loss in Big Ten Basketball Conference

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Everything looked pretty rosy down Bloomington, Ind., way today. The Hoosiers had handed Illinois its first defeat of the Big Ten season last night, 41-36, and climbed within a half game of second place. Better yet, their remaining schedule was the most favorable of any of the Conference's First Division clubs. Indiana has six games to play and only one is against a team contender—Minnesota. Four will be played at Bloomington, including the Gopher tilt. Other games still in the Indiana book are Chicago, Michigan, Iowa, Northwestern and Ohio State.

Illinois has seven games left but must meet Minnesota, Wisconsin and Purdue. The Gophers, with five to play, will face Purdue, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin in a row. Wisconsin has Purdue, Illinois and Minnesota as three of its remaining seven foes, while Purdue must tackle Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois plus four second division opponents.

Not a team changed its position in the standings as a result of last night's four games. Wisconsin buffeted Chicago, 54-20, and Purdue cracked Northwestern, 50-41, to enable the Badgers and Boilermakers to remain in a tie for fourth place. Iowa, in sixth place, whipped Ohio State, 52-44, in the night's fourth game.

Purdue and Minnesota will meet at Minneapolis in Saturday's stand-out game, with one due to absorb its fourth beating. The other three members of the top five will oppose second-division foes: Indiana entertaining last place Chicago, Illinois at home to ninth place Michigan and Wisconsin host to eighth place Ohio State. Iowa and Northwestern will tangle at Evanston.

Mon. Mixed Doubles Won by the Hallars and McGrahams

From hereon when it comes to tips on bowling technique we'll have to search out either a member of the Haller clan or a protégé of the McGraham tribe. It's evident that these two families must be having private clinics on the fine art of tripping the pins, for last night they managed between them to take away all high honors at the Lincoln Lanes.

The first place glories went to Betty and Kenneth Haller when they hit a high total of 1129. To make things more confusing Mrs. Beatrice Haller joined with Dr. McGraham to steal the second place honors with 1100. How Arlene Distin fits into these two noble families of the Lanes, we don't know, nevertheless, she paired off with George McGraham, Jr. to take away third place prizes with a total of 1083.

John Sullivan managed to outdo the two-family monopoly and sneaked in a high game which won individual honors for him with a score of 233 for one game. Other couples which braved the snowy blasts last night and appeared at the Lanes for the mixed doubles competition were as follows:

Christina Scanlon and Phil Hopkins—949.
Doris Compton and Brownie Emmert—1079.
Elaine Konen and Jim Scanlon—1045.
Mary Emmert and Bill Austin—1002.
Edith Hopkins and Russell Byers—977.
Ruth McCarthy and Russell Brown—1044.
Marilyn Thomas and John Sullivan—1035.
Betty Wise and Charles Brill—972.

Notre Dame Beats Great Lakes Quint

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—To the list of teams that beat the Great Lakes Naval Training Station basketball squad, add Notre Dame.

The Irish turned the trick managed previously only by Ohio State, Michigan State and Creighton last night, 46-43, before a Navy relief fund crowd of 12,236 in the Chicago Stadium. The Navy record now is 21 victories in 25 games. The Irish chalked up their 12th win in 16 contests.

Notre Dame grabbed the lead early in the second half and hung on doggedly to the finish, although at no time did more than four points separate the teams. Bobby Rensberger paced the Irish scorers with 16 points while Ernie Andrews, former Indiana cager, was high man for the Naval Training Station quintet with 12.

At least five states are considering a plan to issue only one license plate for the duration of the war.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 10.—(Wide World)—It's Coach Frankie Albert now... Unable to play on the Stanford Rugby team because of a heavy load of studies, Frankie is coaching the backs... Larry French tells California friends that unless Larry MacPhail calls off that $6,500 salary slash (from $14,000) he will stay at home and tend to his Automobile financing business instead of pitching for the Dodgers... Mid-week basketball gets underway tonight with seven games to be played around the neighborhood. The interesting feature of the encounters at this time of the season is that each one is very indicative of the way these teams are going to shape up in tournament play. Some clubs started their season rolling like a house on fire but since have dwindled to the point of blowing their fuses. Others have started with no hope of ever being in the win column but now show promise of traveling far in the state play-off. So on this basis let us take a look at some of these games for tonight.

Spring Valley at Princeton

Spring Valley, Hall Township, goes to Princeton, a North Central Conference member, to play a non-conference tilt. Princeton has had a consistent season and a wonderful record built up. The Tigers, in Conference play have lost only two games. Spring Valley is a much larger school and although we know little about her play this season she will be virtue of her squad strength be a tough contender for Princeton. If Princeton wins this game she'll prove that she's worthy to play in anybody's league.

Geneseo at Walnut

Geneseo, with a good record behind her, goes to Walnut tonight. Walnut started strong early in the season but has recently slowed up. This was shown by her loss to Ohio a week ago. Then too, the Walnut five is facing a foe to-night which plays in faster company and if she can stand the gaff and play even ball with Geneseo she'll undoubtedly be a contender in the state tourney.

DeKalb at Ottawa

DeKalb, a North Central Conference member, travels to Ottawa tonight. DeKalb has been an on and off ball club all season and now and then has shown possibilities by beating a top ranking team and one in the parachute troops... Although the 32nd Division basketball team only placed second in the recent Sabine Valley tournament in Louisiana, Corp. Trig Pederson, who used to play for Eau Claire, Wis., Teachers, was voted the most valuable player award... Charley Toile, who started as a private in the coast artillery and now is headed for the Officers' Training School at Fortress Monroe, Va., still packs the 220 pounds he weighed when he played tackle for Princeton five years ago.

Today's Guest Star

Dick Walsh, Albany (N. Y.) Times Union: "The Boston Red Sox have eliminated passes to their ball park for the coming season... All sports editors in town should give Tom Yawkey a vote of thanks... Now they will be able to do their work without constant interruption from pass hounds."

Service Dept.

Tickets for State Tourney Finals Are Complete Sell-Out

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The finals in the Illinois High School Basketball Tournament, more than five weeks away, already are sold out.

Ticket Manager C. E. Bowen announced the 2,750 tickets allotted to the public and the 1,250 laid aside for coaches and principals have been disposed of, and that surplus orders are being returned to the unlucky senders.

Still on hand are 2,500 tickets, but they will be distributed to the 16 schools whose teams come to the State Tournament Finals here March 19-21. The 16 finalists will be determined in Sectional Meets ending March 13.

Bowen had more orders than tickets at the close of business yesterday and all requests were put on an equal basis for a drawing. Orders still left after the 2,750 allotment was disposed of will be returned within the next 10 days, he said.

HAZARDS ARE ELIMINATED FROM MANY GOLF COURSES

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—If you've always been on the losing end of a perennial battle to break 100 in golf, stick to your guns. The rubber shortage may get you over the hump this year.

The Nation's Greenkeeping Superintendents, in conference here, envision a "duffers" paradise on many public and private golf courses this year—fairways unsullied by trees or sandtraps, roughs that are close-cropped and some of the most heartbreaking water hazards dried up.

The alterations will be the result of both hard economic necessity and belated sympathy for the "dub" in action.

Rubber shipments for the manufacture of golf balls have been shut off. So when a player loses all his balls, it is pointed out, the course loses a paying customer.

The swank Westchester Country club, Rye, N. Y., and the Medinah Country club of Chicago are among those taking the lead in minimizing hazards.

Green and Brooks Outline Course of Republican Party

National Unity and Two Party System Needed, Speakers Declare

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Indicating the course their party would follow in the Illinois elections of 1942, Governor Dwight H. Green and United States Senator C. Wayland Brooks last night urged national unity but emphasized the necessity of preserving the two-party system through the war.

The two officials spoke at the annual Lincoln Day banquet of the Republican State Central Committee, attended by 1,500 Republicans who paid $5 a plate. Two Democratic office holders, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes and Edward Cullinan, Clerk of the Supreme Court, were seated at the speakers' table and were introduced to emphasize the non-partisan character of the gathering.

The audience listened carefully for anything from Gov. Green that might be construed as an endorsement of Sen. Brooks' candidacy for re-election, but heard only a series of warm compliments and no outright endorsement.

Cites Brooks' War Record

Referring to Brooks' war record, the governor described the candidate for re-election as "a distinguished man serving with courage in the last war."

"We are determined to have national unity," the governor declared, "when the security of the nation x x x is at stake. But we want no political unity when it might mean the destruction of the party system of government. No individual, or no group, should be granted concentrated power of rule."

"If the spirit of Lincoln could speak tonight," Green asserted, "it would bade us fight to the last man, to the last place, and to the last ship against the despoilers of liberty. But it also would warn us to encourage the people in their untrammelled selection of local, state and national governments in which they could have faith x x x."

Brooks Outlines War Needs

"We enjoy the two-party system of government, and in it we have found, and always will find, that great balancing power which protects and perpetuates free government."

Brooks, striking the same note as Governor Green, emphasized the necessity of preserving American liberties and the two-party system through the war.

He declared "we must send our boys the full certainty that they are fighting for a united people."

He told the Republicans the nation was faced with the necessity of gaining mastery of the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Mediterranean to subdue its enemies. He said an armed force of between 7,000,000 and 10,000,000 would be needed for the task, plus an industrial army of 20,000,000.

He watched closely for in all likelihood she'll appear in the Dixon Regional after playing through the Franklin district.

Milledgeville at Chadwick

Milledgeville tours to Chadwick tonight and it'll merely be routine for them to bring home a win. They've had a grand season with a consistent ball club that knows when to break fast and when to slow it up. Coach Werful's "Millies" have the unusual and virtuous habit of making another club made exactly the style of ball she desires her to play. When tournament time comes this is the type of club to watch for she displays speed, coolness, aggressiveness and a few boys who really know how to lift them in.

Steward goes to Malta

Steward goes to Malta tonight and should win in a walk away. The Steward cagers started as a hot scoring ball club, a name which is difficult to keep, and has never faltered for Anderson, Richardson, Cole, Rapp and a few others have always added points in every game. This club should

Polo at Harlem

Polo goes to Harlem tonight for a non-conference battle. The Marcos have had tough luck this season, she started out fair but a change in style of ball playing there where off-stride but recently has shown a new ray of hope and if things go well tonight when the breaks are dish out she should have a fair chance in beating Harlem.

Sheriff Bill Wells said he and other officers were directed to the spot where the body of the Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home and 2:00 o'clock at the St. John's Lutheran church.

pretty bookkeeper was found in 25 feet of water by a 37-year-old man. The man, Wells added, told them he placed it there after the girl died on Grindstone Mountain near here a week ago following an attempted self-operation.

"He said she died within 15 minutes but before she died she asked him to dispose of her body," the sheriff said.

"The man said he obtained log chains, wrapped her with them, drove to Calion and placed her body in the river."

The sheriff said the man told him he had known the girl for a long time and had attempted to befriend her, but denied he had any personal relations with her.

North Shore Railway Strike Now in Court

Chicago, Feb. 10. — (AP) — Creditors of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company, operators of Chicago's elevated lines, have asked a contempt citation and financial damages from a union in the dislocation of Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee Electric Railroad services in the Chicago area.

Named in the petition filed yesterday with Federal District Judge Michael L. Igoe, was division 308 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway & Motor Coach Employees of America. Division 308, whose members work on the elevated lines, "disassociated" itself from Amalgamated's division 900, consisting of North Shore employees, on Feb. 1. A hearing was set for Feb. 14.

Since that time North Shore trains have not been permitted to operate on elevated trackage and passengers to and from Chicago have been forced to transfer between elevated and north shore trains at the north edge of the city.

If you desire any of the soldier boy pictures taken by our photographic and engraving department, appearing in The Evening Telegraph, you may purchase same at reasonable cost.
